Meeting Notes

Attendee list is maintained by SCPA Executive Board Member Keith Nohe. For privacy reasons, attendee list is not attached to this document. Many members attended the meeting via the webinar as well as in person.

Keith Nohe introduced the 5 current SCPA Executive Board members; himself, Patrick Flynn, David Halford, Lars Thompson, Pat Tiffany and advisors to the Executive Board Mel Curtis and Erik Goldoff (webmaster). Keith Nohe introduced our hosts for this meeting and thanked them for their assistance. Our meeting hosts was Craig Cemate of Quality Technology Services (QTS) and David Halford of Forsythe Solutions Group hosted the webinar for this meeting. Each SCPA member in attendance was asked to indicate their attendance on the sign-in roster that was circulated about the room.

Keith Nohe reminded those in attendance in person and via the webinar to request DRII certification credits for attendance at the meeting. Pat Tiffany asked meeting attendees to consider hosting a future SCPA meeting or to propose meeting speakers or volunteer to speak at an upcoming meeting. Interested members should contact Pat directly.

Pat Tiffany reminded members of the Disaster Recovery Journal (DRJ) Spring World Conference that is scheduled for March 27-30, 2011 in Orlando. SCPA members receive a 10% registration discount. Pat also reminded members of the Continuity Insights Management Conference that is scheduled for April 11-13, 2011 and will be held at the Atlanta Hyatt Regency. SCPA will receive complimentary table space in the exhibit hall and SCPA members receive a $100 discount on conference registration. Refer to SCPA email for more details.

Pat Tiffany described the free full conference registration made available to the SCPA from for the DRJ Spring World Conference. Interested members submitted an entry form that required the correct answers to two questions. The person whose name was chosen as the winner is Rodney Fields of Norfolk Southern Corporation.

Keith Nohe discussed the reasons for selecting a new SCPA logo and the new logo was revealed publically for the first time. It will be used from this point forward on all SCPA materials. It contains the tag line "Georgia Business Force Partner" reflecting the acquisition of the GBF by the SCPA last year.

Keith Nohe introduced our guest speaker, Ian Hay, who is with the Southeast Emergency Response Network (SEERN). Ian spoke about the "Evolving Terrorist Threat" and his presentation is posted on the SCPA web site: <http://www.scpa-us.org/>. Members had a lot of great questions and the session was informative and thought provoking.

As always, the meeting concluded with an informal networking session. The next SCPA meeting is scheduled for Thursday, May 12, 2011. More information will be sent to members soon concerning location and topics of discussion.
